

Abstract of the Invention

An imaging system and methodology is provided to facilitate optical imaging performance. The system includes a sensor and a lens system, including one or more lenses, configured according to sensor characteristics to facilitate scaling parts of the 5 sensor to an object field of view so as to provide desired resolution of an object being viewed.

20142330 - 024402